What will you learn at this training?

Our training offer is aimed at people who want to learn how to become a Salesforce Core Back-end Developer.

The Salesforce Core Back-end Developer is having knowledge of these topics: Data modelling, Data management, Apex Basics & Database, Apex Triggers, Visualforce Basics.

There are three core programmatic technologies to learn about as a Salesforce developer.

Lightning Component Framework : A UI development framework similar to AngularJS or React.

Apex Salesforce's proprietary programming language with Java-like syntax.

Visualforce: A markup language that lets you create custom Salesforce pages with code that looks a lot like HTML, and optionally can use a powerful combination of Apex and JavaScript.

What is Salesforce Core?

Salesforce Core is containing more clouds that provides users with a specific set of tools and features. The clouds covered by this training are CRM, Sales, Service, Experience Cloud .

What's needed from me?

You shall have a technical background, at least an online training for basics (for example, a beginner training in React, HTML or CSS). English fluency.

What do I need?

A computer and a good internet connection since the program is delivered remotely.

Willingness and enthusiasm to take up a new challenge.

You need to be open to learn not only theoretical matters and concepts, but also to apply in practice the know-how gained during the program.

What does OSF Digital offer?

Training materials, carefully selected information, useful links to help you explore the documentation we prepared for you

Support from a dedicated Trainer who will answer your questions and will help you overcome any challenges that may arise along the way.

Duration of the program is 6 weeks (up to 160 hours).

The schedule is flexible, depending on how much time you can invest.

Upon assessment at the end of the program – you'll receive an OSF Digital - Certificate of Program Completion.
