Description

As Huawei Turkey R&D Center, we are now looking for Research Engineers to join our ranks. We, as the AI Team of the Petal Search, are mainly working on search results improvement to increase end-user satisfaction. In order to improve search results, we are applying/customizing state-of-the-art approaches in the fields of Natural Language Processing, Information Retrieval, Machine Learning and Deep Learning. In our team, we are trying to allocate time for research and development as well as publishing papers in top conferences such as ACL, EMNLP, SIGIR, CIKM.

Key areas of responsibility will be:

Design and build scalable ML services,

Deploy ML services to production at scale considering resource constraints,

Monitoring models to evaluate and improve,

Play an active role in suggesting, collecting, and preprocessing the data necessary to train the ML models and evaluate performance,

Consult with the other teams to determine the requirements and formalize the possible ML research directions

Transforming new research ideas into publication at top conferences.
