Who are we?

Cyrex is a native security and software development company. We're focused on building the next generation of top-notch software for web, mobile, and native. Coupled with our extensive background in ethical hacking and cyber crime, we've established ourselves as a trusted partner to over 700 clients worldwide. Serving clients of all size, from startups to full-scale enterprises, we work with a diverse, international team of experts providing custom-made development support.

Cyrex aims to drive innovation and creativity within the tech industry by combining both their technical expertise and creative thinking to create bulletproof security solutions and reliable software.

Long story short, we are an awesome team of tech savvy boys and girls who want to be the best at what we do.

If you are awesome too, let's meet!

What are we looking for?

If you want to work in a start-up style product tech team with a high quality pipeline, surrounded by a team of skilled engineers, we have the perfect challenge for you. Our Product first team combines long term job security with the excitement of a small(er) company.

We are looking for a talented, intermediate/senior back-end developer to join our internal development crew. You should not only be able to tackle complex problems, but also take ownership of project-related tasks, provide technical guidance and support to fellow developers, and actively contribute to the daily activities of the team. As any role within Cyrex, you will be responsible for delivering top-notch quality on any product, and will have at your disposal an entire team of seniors that can help, mentor, validate and challenge along the way.

About you

As part of the development team, you will be part of all types of tasks befitting your seniority and expertise, as well as any technical brainstorm and discussion on how to best solve the problems we are faced with. Also, you'll be expected to have technical oversight of the Backend/devops stack of a specific project. This includes proposing changes, flagging issues as well as be responsible for maintaining and improving general quality standards of the whole backend.
