The opportunity

Our Climate Change and Sustainability Services (CCASS) team is growing exponentially, and as a staff you'll play a key role in that growth. Working across all industries, you'll develop your career by communicating creative, strategic goals both internally and externally. It's all about listening to and understanding our clients to give them a truly exceptional experience in a field where there really are no off-the-shelf recommendations.

Your key responsibilities

The nature of this role means no two projects will be the same. That means you'll need to think on your feet and challenge existing practices to develop answers to complex issues. You'll also be collaborating with colleagues across multiple practices, so we'll look to you to build relationships and identify opportunities for our clients to benefit from our knowledge in other areas. Occasional travel may be required as you will be meeting with key clients, some of those being the most respected in their fields.

Skills and attributes for success

Being a part of engagement team to consulting with clients on technical sustainability reporting and advisory capabilities

Collaborating with partners, managers and colleagues to influence strategy, balancing risk and client expectations

Building strong relationships with colleagues across multiple projects to provide seamless integrated service

Delivering performance and identifying opportunities to improve our products and processes

To qualify for the role you must have

A bachelor's degree Environmental Engineering, or related discipline

Graduation from reputable universities

Strong technical writing skills and environmental knowledge

Sustainability knowledge with environmental footprinting, lifecycle analysis, sustainable supply chain planning and/or carbon market is a plus

A deep understanding of the marketplace, as well as commonly used terminology, processes and tools

The confidence to research and resolve emerging client issues, including regulations, industry practices and new technologies

Excellent command of both written and spoken English

Proficiency in using MS Office applications,

Strong attention to detail

Ideally you'll also have

A proven record of excellence when being a part of high-performing team

A master's degree in Environmental Engineering, Environmental Sciences or related discipline

Advance certifications

Consulting experience in a large firm with Corporate Social Responsibility reporting or verification
