Are you curious and ready to accept a new challenge in your career? Are you eager to join a dynamic company and bring innovation through your work and skills?

Prometeia offers you opportunities for growth and training in a Group with over 1000 professionals working for more than 500 clients in 20 countries around the world.

Among the European leaders in Enterprise Risk Management and Wealth & Asset Management solutions, Prometeia is looking for a part-time Developer to join our dynamic team for a 6-month internship.

This role primarily involves contributing to the enhancement of our model development and validation pipelines through unit and regression test code development in Python. Additionally, the candidate will assist in bolstering the capabilities of our live products, necessitating knowledge in Java and Docker. If you're passionate about software development, eager to learn, and ready to dive into real-world applications of AI and data science, this opportunity is for you.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Support algorithm design, implementation, validation, and testing tasks

- Assist in the development of additional features and capabilities for live products, utilizing Java (and Docker)

- Facilitate the integration of developed systems/software into existing production environments

Embrace a lean development environment, demonstrating a willingness to multitask and learn new technologies

PREFERRED REQUIREMENTS:

Proficiency in Python programming is essential

Familiarity with Java and Docker (is nice to have)

Familiarity with relational SQL and NoSQL databases (e.g., Redis, MongoDB, Cassandra)

Knowledge of graph database platforms is advantageous

Experience with HTML5, CSS, and consuming RESTful APIs

Familiarity with modern JavaScript frameworks like Angular, React, or Vue (Hands-on experience with Angular is a plus)

Proficiency in Linux/Unix operating systems

SOFT SKILLS:

Skill to effectively present, describe and report on complex ideas and projects

Good communication and team-working attitude

Demonstrated ability to manage time effectively and adhere to strict deadlines in a dynamic workenvironment

WHAT WE OFFER:

Selected candidates will be offered a part-time position to work in a stimulating and dynamic environment, strongly oriented towards the enhancement of human resources according to the results achieved.
