Description

You are curious, persistent, logical, and clever. You have a technical vision for a particular solution. If this sounds like you, this could be the perfect opportunity to join EPAM as a SAP Material Management / Sales and Distribution Consulting Team Lead to work with internal and third-party teams with a focus on O2C and P2P.

The purpose of the project is to define and deliver O2C and P2P solutions in SAP ECC and SAP S/4HANA. This includes responsibility for functional/technical specifications, configuration, and unit testing. Delivery of appropriate functional documentation and knowledge transfer to the support teams will be required.

You will be working with people from all levels of IT and business, which will require a proactive demeanor. This is an excellent opportunity to get involved in projects from requirements gathering & gap analysis to training, testing, and data activities.

What Youll Do

Provide applications expertise and knowledge to the business (and other Global IT functions) for the design, development and integration of IT solutions in your designated applications area (SAP and integration to non-SAP systems)

Assist in planning and manage the delivery of application change to ensure that it is completed to specification, time and budget working in a Kanban environment

Ensure enhancements in the O2C/P2P area follow Electrocomponents Principles, Patterns and Standards

Produce formal design materials (design documents, specifications) as input into the building process for new solutions

Ensure that the inter-relationship between business process and application functionality is clearly understood and communicated during any change activity

Establish strong and effective working relationships with external partners and their consultants to ensure maximum benefits are derived for our business

Provide expertise in your area to the Applications Support Manager when required to ensure agreed service levels are met including a formal hand-over of newly developed solutions to the Support Organization

Remain abreast of external developments in your applications area so those offers can be made to the business to leverage any future development opportunities

Support the development of strategies, standards, policies & procedures within your specialist area of expertise

What You Have

Knowledge of 2+ modules / applications of the target system

Understanding of programming languages related to modules / applications mentioned above

SAP Certification in an appropriate SAP Module (MM/SD etc)

Bachelor's degree or equivalent combination of education and experience

6+ years of SAP O2C or P2P experience as a consultant

Deep understanding of ERP
